

Custom Multi-Vent Output System

KEY FEATURES

- Beautify your entire building
- Unify three venting pipes into one output
- Protect from rain and the elements

As the saying goes: the devil is in the details. That's why no building — whether a small apartment complex, towering skyscraper, or modern corporate campus — should have the millions spent to make it beautiful be sabotaged by extruding, errant ventilation pipes.

California Sheet Metal's proprietary, custom Multi-Plenum Vent System helps solve the functional needs of every building while also maintaining the beauty down to the smallest detail. Multiple vents are nested into one and waterproofed within the hinged system. Ducting connects directly to the output system to provide one exit point for dryer vents, kitchen hoods and bathroom vents.

The custom venting is manufactured at scale to make it feasible for any job size, while also matching the unique color and sizing of any building.
